

Tareekh: features

Case diary for advocates · Android

Tareekh is a case diary for advocates on Android: your cases, next dates, orders, reminders and cause lists in one place, working with the public pages of eCourts, the High Courts and the Supreme Court. You type every CAPTCHA; everything else is done for you.

Your cases in one place

- Add a case by hand, by typing it the way you write it (e.g. TS 245/2026 Baruipur), or from a document.
- Upload or share a summons, order, notice, plaint or eCourts screenshot: the phone reads it (PDFs up to 3 pages) and fills in court, case type, number, year, hearing date and parties.
- Screenshots of tables (like the eCourts app's case lists) are read column by column.
- If a detail is missing you are told, and can fill it in or save as it is.
- You choose whose name the case is saved under (petitioner, respondent or your client), with the case number or the name only.
- Import your whole eCourts app 'My Cases' export (district and High Court) in one step; imported again, cases are updated, not duplicated.

Next dates, found for you

- At 6:30 pm Tareekh reminds you to check the day's hearings; for two more days it keeps asking until eCourts shows the new date.
- Check on eCourts opens the court's own page already filled in; you type only the CAPTCHA.
- The next date, stage, judge, parties, acts and full hearing history are read and saved.
- If eCourts is down or late, enter the date yourself (manual override).
- A clear message when a court site is not available, with Try again.

Court orders, filed per case

- Every order uploaded on eCourts is downloaded when you open the case there.
- Saved in Download/Tareekh/Orders/<client name> <case number>/, one folder per case, named by date.
- Opened, shared on WhatsApp, and kept even if the app is removed.
- Only new orders are fetched; nothing is downloaded twice.

Reminders and calendar

- Every hearing goes into your Google Calendar with alerts 2 days before and at 8 am.
- 8 am: today's matters; 8 pm: tomorrow's matters.
- 2 days before: a reminder with 'Send WhatsApp reminder' for the client.
- 3 days before: a fee reminder for clients whose fee is not marked paid.
- Month calendar with the number of matters each day, and a warning when two courts clash.

Your clients

- One-tap Call, WhatsApp and Save contact; the contact name is the client's name followed by the case number.
- WhatsApp reminder to the client with the case, court, date and purpose typed in your own words; you tap Send.
- If no number is saved, Tareekh asks for it once and keeps it with the case.

Courts across India

- District courts of every state: state, district and court complex from eCourts' own lists.
- All 25 High Courts and their 44 benches (Appellate Side, Original Side, circuit benches) on their own eCourts pages.
- Case types of every High Court built in (WPA, CRR, CRM(A), FMA...), so a paper that shows only 'WPA 12345 of 2024' is recognised.
- Supreme Court case status and cause lists.

Cause lists

- High Court, district court and Supreme Court cause lists for yesterday, today, tomorrow or any date.
- High Court lists open by themselves (no CAPTCHA); Tareekh says if nothing is published yet.
- Cause list PDFs are saved in Download/Tareekh/Cause lists.

Notes

- Notes on their own or linked to a case, with a reminder date and time.
- Today, Tomorrow, Checks due and Fees due at a glance on the first screen.

Your data, your phone

- Everything is stored on your phone; nothing is sent anywhere except to the court sites you open.
- Export a backup (cases, notes) to Google Drive; import it on a new phone.
- Light and dark mode; reminders keep working after the phone restarts.

Getting started

- Install the Tareekh APK on the phone and open it.
- Tap Allow for notifications and calendar, and let Tareekh run in the background (battery: Unrestricted).
- Add cases: import your eCourts app My Cases export (Settings > Import), upload documents, or type them.
- For a faster eCourts: on the phone, Settings > Network > Private DNS > dns.google.

See the screen guide for a picture of every screen, with arrows explaining each part.
